Review: OSMO Guilty Pleasures

"Manipulate and corrupt your head"

OSMO have launched products that promise to get your hair to stay put. The Extreme Xfirm Glue Spray along with the Resin Extreme Glue mean business. They promise superior product performance and irresistible fragrance, and that "these dedicated style saviours won't leave a hair out of place" Good stuff then? Read on...

As I have long hair, I passed this onto my boyfriend Andy for his thoughts...

"The spray and glue used together mean your hair doesn't move, I used the products on towel dried hair and combed my hair into place. It's pliable to allow you to style, but then it locks that style in place.

The smell is great, one of the best I've used, and using the glue left my hair feeling soft but styled, the spray left my hair with a slight shell feel. My only negative really is that the price is pretty off putting"
